

World Peace Flame

All us who share this beautiful planet cannot help but be aware of the power of light. We have all experienced the deep sense of renewal and joy that travels to us on the rays of the morning sun. The World Peace Flame is a new sun spreading its rays across the earth. It carries the combined aspirations for peace of millions of people across the globe.

This candle has been lit from the World Peace Flame, which was created in July 1999 when for the first time in history, seven living flames from each of the continents of the world were transported across the globe by military air forces and commercial airlines by peacemakers and indigenous elders, and united to create a single flame - The World Peace Flame. It is a living symbol of hope for the creation of a culture of peace. In a real sense, your candle carries the energy of this light of unity at the molecular level. At the level of intention, it represents the consciousness of World Peace.

*Millions of people continue to light their candles daily to symbolize humanity's desire for, and commitment to achieving World Peace. When you light your candle, you can contribute to the collective vision of World Peace and of an evolved humanity by adding your own commitment and intention for Peace.*¹

You are personally invited to take this candle and keep the intention of the flame going by dedicating a permanent candle in your home or office as your World Peace Candle. Light it often to bring peace, light and inspiration to yourself and others, and as a symbolic reminder of your commitment to daily live the very highest expression of an evolved and peaceful human being. Snuff out the flame (do not blow it out) to keep the spirit of the peace flame living in the wick between lightings.

We have the capacity to create a better world through our thoughts, intentions and deeds. Choose to be a keeper of the flame of Peace and pass this light on to others by giving them a candle lit from yours. This action will to help make our united transition into the new story we are weaving in a spirit of optimism and joy.

¹ An initiative of Life Foundation. For further info visit: www.worldpeaceflame.com